Dr. Iliev is by far, the best math teacher I have ever had. He articulates the material in a very clear, effective way and has a keen interest in ensuring that his students understand said material. Dr. Iliev's lectures are interactive, without being intimidated. As a person who does not consider math my strongest subject, I felt comfortable in his class and like I was always learning. The manner in which Dr. Iliev conducts his class and sets up his notes is extremely conducive to learning and helped me, personally, a great deal. Dr. Iliev has also been available for help outside of class, and is very approachable. I also like that Dr. Iliev requires students to come one-on-one and pick up tests, and holds a small meeting with each student concerning their progress and grade. To me, this shows that Dr. Iliev cares that his students are learning, and forces more reserved students, like myself, to take a more active role in their education. I really appreciate the way Dr. Iliev conducted this course. I always knew what was expected of me, what was coming up in the course and how I would be evaluated. I would recommend Dr. Iliev to any student, and I think that if I had more math teachers like him I would feel a lot better about math as a subject.
I felt that too much of our individual grade was derived from the test and final of the course. The professor gives assignments and in class quizzes, which are helpful in gauging ones competency of the material. I do think it would however behoove the professor to add longer, and in depth quizzes to the course. I did often times feel under prepared after taking an exam. I studied old quizzes, hw assignments and was still left dumbfounded at some of the questions on our exams.
My professor was very knowledgeable about the subject and was always prepared for class.
